MoSCoW:

Must Haves:

- A function which inserts new customer into database.
- A function which inserts new item into database.
- A function which inserts new order into database.
- A function which updates customer in database.
- A function which updates item in database.
- A function which updates order in database.
- A function which updates customer in database.
- A function which deletes customer in database.
- A function which deletes item in database.
- A function which deletes order in database.
- A function which reads all customer in database.
- A function which reads all items in database.
- A function which reads all orders in database.
- A function which adds item to an existing order.
- A function which can delete item from an existing order.
- Produce costs of an order.

Should Haves:

- Customer requires name.
- Item requires name and value.
- Order requires customer ID and contain items.
- At least 80% test Coverage.
- Include Order_Items table.

Could Haves:

- A function which creates a user
- List all users
- Users will be tied to changes to customers, items, and orders
- Login system which implements username and password
- Changes to orders requires user to be logged in.

Won't have:

- Web based interface